

UCD seeks to give capacities or to empower individuals or groups of people by providing them the skills that they need to create change in their own communities.

UCD wants also to upgrade the cultural education of the people and restore the academic discipline that had disappeared. UCD wants for the new generation to get rid of the old mind of depending on the government; Let all inhabitants in Guinea consider themselves as potential and valuable resources for the development of their people and their communities, by considering themselves as government and undertaking concrete actions to improve their own living standards and that of their communities. Therefore, the change of this mentality must begin in the family which is the base of any cultural and social development of a nation.
